LB 225

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Schmit isn't here, is he?

CLERK: He has been excused, Senator.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Chronister, are you ready to go on 375? Senator Chronister.

SENATOR CHRONISTER: Yes.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Are you ready to go on 375? Oh, it passed. 222, 225?

SENATOR CHRONISTER: We haven't done anything with 225.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Yes, we have. We haven't? Okay. Mr. Clerk, what do we have left on Select File that has something on it there?

CLERK: Well, Senator, 350 maybe, Mr. President. Senator Haberman has an amendment to the bill but that is all I have on it.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Ready to go on that, Rex? You're not. He is not ready on that. What else do you have? 225. They want to take up the kill motion on LB 225.

CLERK: Okay. Mr. President, LB 225 was....E & R amendments were adopted, Mr. President, on March 30. At that time Senator Hannibal made a motion to indefinitely postpone the bill. That laid it over, Mr. President. I presently have that pending.

SENATOR CHRONISTER: Senator Hannibal.

SENATOR HANNIBAL: Mr. Chairman, members of the body, I... excuse me for trying to get organized here. There is several pieces of information that I probably would have like to had passed out but I think I can go ahead and explain some of my reasons for wanting LB 225 indefinitely postponed. I have talked with the introducer of the bill and I have talked with the chairman and the counsel of the committee to try to become a little more informed as to why we needed this bill and to bring myself up to date to make sure I am talking about the right bill. I believe this is for the continuing education for funeral home directors and embalmers to require for relicensure sixteen hours of continuing education as a mandatory process. I have a couple of problems with the bill but one of the main problems I had is why do we have to do this and it was pointed out to me under the licenses, professional and occupational, that we have to have this put in by state statute. So
